| What personality trait in people raises a red flag with you?

I don't know who erupts these questions as prompt 😂... sometimes it suits my reality life happening and what I'm going through 🙄...

Last Friday I met a person with whom I have closed bond of 15 years...past two years we were not speaking... that day she forced and was very adamant and trigger my anger... I had have never showed this much anger or hateness on anybody but she made me on that day... I was shouting, frustrated i don't even know what set of mind I was... I kept on expressing my hateness through my words and never wanted to see her or speak with her... she kept on force me to speak and for the reason... she never bothered on past two years with so suddenly she reached me and ask me to be normal and wants the reason with so much of "Adamant and Attitude" it triggered me and lead me to something extreme which I never even imagined... I cutted my left hand and said to leave me alone and never wanted her to be with me at any cause...

Being with me 15 years she don't even know how to convince or how to behave normal with me... for not to have guilt she made me in trouble...

"People's attitude (red flag) triggers me and teach me the same think which I hated... slowly I becoming what I hated from people..."
